DETAILED ACTIONInformation Disclosure Statement

The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Objections

Claim 9 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 9 depends from claim 7, however the limitations of claim 9 with respect to the lock mechanism is disclosed in claim 8 not claim 7, therefore claim 9 should depend from claim 8. Correction is required.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: lock member 179, resilient fingers 180, tabs 181, end 182, knobs 183, slots 184 and 185, gas inlet elbow 189, axis 190, elbow lock 191, notch 192. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 2, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kwok et.al. (6,532,961).

Kwok in a nasal mask (16) discloses a body (17) having an upper portion and a lower portion (1-7, 9-16), a bridge (14) extending from said upper portion of said body, said bridge having a free end, a brow bar (12), and means for releasably connecting said free end of said bridge to said brow bar (Figs. 1-16).

With respect to claim 2, Kwok discloses wherein said free end of said bridge (14) is connected to said brow bar (10), said brow bar is free to rotate relative to said bridge (Figs. 1-16).

Art Unit: 3743

With respect to claim 7, Kwok discloses a headgear means for mounting said brow bar on a forehead of mask of a user, and wherein said free end of said bridge can be disconnected from said brow bar while said brow bar is attached to a forehead of a user (Via 27, 28).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 3743

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kwok et.al. (6,532,961) in view of Lang (6,712,072).

The difference between Kwok and claim 6 is elastic upper and lower straps. Kwok discloses the use of upper and lower straps for securing the cushion frame to the wearer's head (Col. 4, lines 45-63).

Lang in a nasal mask teaches elastic straps (6, 8) (Col. 2, lines 10-14). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the straps of Kwok to employ any well known elastic material including the elastic straps taught by Lang doing so provides a strap which is able to conform to different user's head sizes as elastic straps are able to stretch.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-5 and 8-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The balance of art is cited to show nasal mask devices: 2004/0045551; 6,789,543; 6,691,707; 2004/0045550; D492,992; D443,335; 5,662,101.
